

The Mosquitoes Suck Tour

- Is a 45-60 minute live-performance program.
- Will appeal to and can be tailored to suit students from grades 6-12
- Teaches Canadian youth about malaria and helps them join the global response to this deadly disease that threatens 50% of the world's people.
- Combines: comedy, educational content on malaria, giveaways (we have a t-shirt launcher!), performance magic, video clips, and lots to ponder... into one inspiring, participatory show.
- Is guaranteed to be a rich, fun and memorable learning experience for you students!

Fundraising and Engagement:

- Since malaria is eradicated in Canada, part of our role in the struggle is to raise funds and awareness to help those affected.
- MST will help your students do both! Use it as a kick-off event to a malaria unit and collect donations at the door.
- We'll also help your youth do more advocacy and fundraising if they choose.
- All funds raised go to our partner, Spread the Net, which distributes malaria-preventing insecticide treated bednets in Africa. "One net. Ten bucks. Save lives."

Alignment with Curriculum Expectations

- In conjunction with the show, you'll receive "ready to use" lesson plans for your global studies/world issues, civics or politics classes.
- You'll also find natural connection points in the show's themes and material to other subjects like biology and the sciences, history, statistics or media/communications.

More Reasons to Partner with MST:

- It will make your jobs easier! (Because it is a fun, interactive way to get your students motivated to grow as global citizens and engage in global issues!)
- It will empower your students to be part of solutions to the world's problems by exploring the concept, "little things can make a big difference."
- The show (performed in English) is suitable for ESL students due to its interactive mix of basic themes, multimedia and physical comedy.
